

Does my existing Massimo saddle still fit?

Would you like to know if your Massimo fits? Below, you have the opportunity to let us take a look at it.

Please note, however, that a local saddler is the best option. Saddlers not only see, they feel, and that is essential when it comes to saddles.

Our visual assessment identifies any major problems and gives you an overview.

Send us five photos of your horse and yourself via our contact form and answer the questions below.

Photo requirements:

1. Photo: Side view without saddle (horse standing with its legs close together and looking straight ahead).
2. Photo: Photo taken without saddle over the croup. The mane should be tied back in a small braid if it covers the shoulder.
3. Photo: Side view with saddle firmly girth-fastened (horse standing closed and looking straight ahead).
4. Photo: Side view of you on your horse.
5. Photo: Fingers fitting between the front pommel and withers (when you are sitting on it).

Questions:

1. What is the saddle number? (left sweat flap)
2. Are you the original owner?
3. What is your clothing size?
4. How tall are you?
5. Compared to your upper body, are your legs longer, shorter or about the same length as your upper body?
6. Does a hand's width fit between your buttocks and the rear pommel? Or is it several fingers?
7. How many fingers fit between the front pommel and the saddle when you are firmly strapped in?
8. How many fingers fit between the front pommel and the saddle when you are
9. How many fingers fit one on top of the other below the cantle in the cushion channel?
10. How old is your horse?
11. Has it had a foal?
12. Has it had any illnesses?
